

Loyalty is one of the finest virtues a man can acquire. It is a mark of character. Loyalty to yourself, your friends, to your country stamps you as one who is faithful to one of the greatest tests that can be put to man.—Grit.

Station M, New York City.

"He's true to God who's true to man;
Whenever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
'Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

Shop Language

It has lately been observed that the plan of degelating teachers from the academic department of the school to give instruction in "shop language," is again being agitated.

It was thought this idea was dead, and that the deaf pupils would be unhampered by outside advice of any kind. There is no single teacher who can give proper instruction in the colloquial language of several different trades. A teacher may be proficient in his knowledge of the implements used and the processes followed in one trade. But so is the instructor of that trade. And every trade teacher should know how to inculcate "shop language"—which is no different, except in technicalities, from school language.

However, it is not the practice of men at work in any trade to waste time in talking. They are generally given written directions, and if they know their trade even fairly well, they can go right ahead and do what is required. The written directions are returned with the completed job, and are silent proof of the correctness of its execution.

The deaf require skilled instruction in grammatical language, and if it is thoroughly given in the schoolroom there will be no necessity of a special course in "shop language."

THE official publication of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, called "The Frat," for December, 1929, is largely given over to specially written tributes to the late Francis Perew Gibson, whose sudden death caused a wave of sorrow all over the United States in the homes of the deaf—whether they were Frats or non-Frats. A good friend had been removed forever from this world, and he was universally mourned. A fine portrait of Mr. Gibson forms the frontispiece of the December issue, and many columns of eulogium, with memorial minutes of several divisions, form estimates of his life and grief at his death. But the society, in good and competent hands, and will surely "carry on."

THE deaf boys of the Malone Institution, that form one of the twenty-one troops of the Adirondack Council Boy Scouts of America, captured the Harry Lauder Trophy for 1929. The trophy is awarded each year to the best all-around troop in the Council, the tests comprising hikes, troop meetings, scoutcraft advancement, etc. The deaf scouts won the tests by over 200 points from the troop in second place. The result of the contest was recorded in the Franklin Daily Times of Malone, N. Y.

BELETED contributions to the Edwin Miner Gallaudet Memorial will either go "over the top" or approximate it. Send contributions to your State agent; or, to Prof. Harley D. Drake, Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C.

OHIO

In a recent number of the American Deaf Citizen published at Versailles, O., by Mr. Roy Conkling, it was hinted that picture shows were now given in place of regular chapel exercises. This has probably given out a wrong impression. While we do have a short educational film shown each Wednesday morning, we do have our services first. A talk is given by one of the men teachers. Prayers and songs are given in concert by Mr. Winemiller. The educational pictures are a help in teaching geography, as we know from experience. The sign language is used at the service and the talks are very often applauded by the pupils, showing that they are understood and appreciated. Sunday afternoon service is followed by a picture show, thus keeping the pupils occupied instead of roaming aimlessly around and maybe getting into mischief.

The residents at the Ohio Home were made very happy at Christmas time. Different societies remembered them with sweets and gifts and many were so remembered by relatives. Christmas afternoon Miss Cloa Lamson, with Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, visited the Home, and Miss Lamson gave the folks a good Christmas story.

Mrs. S. Dresback, Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. Miller and Miss Ione represented the Columbus Ladies, Aid and Mr. Volp and Mr. Eichler did a like duty for the Columbus Advance Society in distributing treats.

Some time ago it was suggested that the graves in the Home lot at the Central College Cemetery be marked and the Board of Managers are now working to secure markers. Mr. Zorn and Mr. Winemiller drove to Pataskala to consult Mr. John Bostwick about markers, as his father is in the monument business.

When the Stitches and Chatter Club met last week with Mrs. Beckert, the members had to rub their eyes and look twice before they could believe they saw Mrs. Jos. Neutzling sitting in the room. Mrs. Neutzling was just a few weeks ago removed from Grant Hospital, where she underwent a serious operation. It seems Mr. Beckert drove to her home and brought her to the meeting. Her presence was a big treat to the members and every one is glad she has made such rapid progress.

The Columbus Chapter of the Gallaudet College Kappa Gamma Fraternity had its monthly dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winemiller. John did the talking as host, while Mrs. John did the cooking to please the members. Mr. A. B. Greener and Mr. Robert Patterson were detained at home by the mercury's slide to zero. Their absence was felt by all. Miss Ethelburga Zell was on hand to help Mrs. Winemiller serve the men—a job she probably accepted with pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Moore were also guests.

Mrs. August Beckert spent one week at her parents home in Michigan and her friends were glad to know that her father, Mr. A. B. Davis, is greatly improved in health. Mr. Davis was for many years an expert in boat building at Sandusky, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kennedy, who are connected with the Ohio Chronicle, have said goodbye to their New Jersey auto tag and put on one from Ohio, thus feeling that they are full-fledged Buckeyes.

By the way, they motored out to the Home on New Year's Day and came back saying they saw a farmer plowing. Now we wonder what they had eaten to say farmers in Ohio ploughed on New Year's Day or was it the new Ohio tag that made them see strange things?

The Columbus Division No. 18, N.F.S.D., report their new Year's Eve party a rousing success, with about 140 persons attending. 1930 was ushered in with noise and confetti.

The deaf residents of Springfield met December 18th and organized the Springfield Aid Society, to take the place of the Ladies' Aid Society, and continue the work of helping the Ohio Home.

Mrs. W. W. Hines, of Springfield, is reported as being quite ill again. Mr. Joseph Goldman, Middletown, celebrated his birthday December 12th, by inviting some of his congenial friends to a fine dinner at his home. He was remembered with many fine gifts and all present had a most happy time.

At the party Mr. Rodney Bradley announced his marriage to Miss Matilda McIntire, and all were surprised and showered with congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Goldman was for many years a very prosperous florist. He furnished the hospital in the men's building at the Ohio Home.

After working for over ten years at the Goodyear plant in Akron, ill health compelled Mr. Arthur Blewins to give up the work. He and his family left by auto for eastern Tennessee, where he has bought a good modern shoe-repair shop. A farewell party was given by their Tennessee friends now located in Akron, and a lovely silver casserole was given them to take to their home. Mr. Blewins sold his home to Mr. Sherrill who also hails from Tennessee. While they are going back home they will miss their Akron friends.

Mr. Herman Cook, general contractor of Columbus, has had the work of tearing down an old frame residence on Oak Street, just back of the school. This residence could be well called an old landmark of Columbus. In it was raised Mr. Andrew Dobbie, whose father was a carpet weaver from Scotland. Though reared in a most humble way Mr. Dobbie became one of the leading merchants in Columbus. Of a large family, all but two have died. We do not know whether Mr. Cook is to rebuild on the lot.

Miss Gladys Turkle, being temporarily laid off from her work in Youngstown, improved her time in making herself one of the new long dresses and surprised her friends, as she was the first deaf lady to come cut so stylishly garbed in Youngstown.

Mr. Emmitt Buist considers himself quite a popular man, as he gets invited to all the Youngstown parties; but "single" explains his popularity.

The students at the school returned from their Christmas vacation January 6th and today school was running as usual, although a few failed to report promptly.

A peculiar mishap befell Mr. Abe Minsky, of Cleveland. He is busy making plans for the Frat's masquerade party February 22d. One evening, when he was due at a meeting to report his progress, he failed to appear. Investigation found him and a few others stalled in an automatic elevator. All efforts failed to release them and the meeting had to go on without Abe's report. After being prisoners for an hour or so, Mr. Frank Faulhaber rescued them by simply using a pencil in some way. You may be sure the deaf will not soon use that elevator again. The men so caught were well nigh exhausted when released.

The Capital City

The Christmas Tree party given by the Ladies' Guild of St. Barnabas' Mission was held at the new Parish House of St. Mark's Church, on the night of January 8th.

Rev. Mr. H. L. Tracy recited "The night before Christmas" and also "The Legend of the Holly Tree near Nazareth," which the audience enjoyed immensely. The Rev. H. A. Woodfall, Rector of St. Mark's Church was present. He spoke "my personal greetings to you for a great and joyous New Year." "We are happy to have you here with us. 'I long to be able to speak to you.' Rev. Mr. Tracy interpreted. Rev. Woodfall is a young man, and is very fond of the deaf.

About a dozen little ones sat in a circle with Rev. Woodfall. He told them about Santa Claus before the little ones were given dolls, toys, candies and apples.

Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Colby, assisted by Mr. Edington, distributed the gifts.

Professor George Faupel, '07, of Frederick, Md., will give a lecture at the deaf department known as Baker Hall of Calvary Baptist Church, Sunday evening, January 19th. Every deaf person is cordially invited to hear him.

The members of the Baptist Mission held their monthly business meeting, with Rev. Mr. A. D. Bryant presiding at the Deaf Department of Calvary Baptist Church, on the night of January 6th.

About thirty deaf of Washington attended the Watch-Night party of the Baltimore Frats in Baltimore, Md., December 31st. Miss Emma Ward, by request, recited "Coming Thru the Rye" and "Railroad Song."

Remember St. Barnabas' Mission for the Deaf will meet at the Parish Hall of St. Mark's Church on the second Wednesday night of every month at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Tracy is the president. The Parish is on Third and A Streets, S. E.

The Bishop of Washington will visit St. Mark's Parish for the purpose of administering the rite of confirmation on March 16th. The Rev. Tracy will be pleased if you will advise him of your intention to join the class.

Rev. Mr. Tracy will be home with us on Sunday of January 19th.

Miss Charlotte Croft's nephew, Mr. Edward Croft, spent the holidays with his parents. His returned to resume his school studies in chemistry at the Institute of Technology in Cambridge, ten miles from Boston, Mass.

Miss Grace A. Ballard is taking a rest at the home of her daughter, at No. 1701 Oregon Avenue, N. W.

Two cruets and cut-glass tray presented to St. Barnabas' Mission by Miss Margaretta Truesheim (hearing) last spring were blessed with wine and wafers, and were consecrated at the Sunday morning Communion service of January 5th, at St. Mark's Church by the Rev. H. A. Woodfall, Rector of St. Mark's Church.

Mr. Wallace Edington is staying with his sister, Mrs. Parker, and family. He has been invited to several card parties lately.

The aged mother of Mrs. H. N. Lowry passed away November 25th. Mr. Albert Rose is now displaying a new moustache. He has an envied position at the Judd Co. and during the evenings he is chauffeur for the Alleys.

The children and grandchildren of Mrs. Ferd Harrison gave a birthday party in her honor, at her home on Sunday, January 5th. She was remembered with pretty gifts.

The Gallaudet Silents swamped the Columbus University tossers, by a 60-10 victory January 4th.

The Rev. Mr. A. D. Bryant's sermon of Sunday, January 5th, was "He maketh the Times." Several new visitors were present.

The subject of Rev. Mr. H. L. Tracy's sermon on the second Sunday after Christmas at St. Mark's Church was "We made Partakers of Christ," taking Hebrews 3:14 for his text.

The February second social of St. Barnabas' Mission will be held at the Parish House of St. Mark's Church. It will be in charge of Mesdames Verrier and Colby, assisted by Mrs. Myron Zimmerman.

Mr. H. S. Edington has been on the sick list during the month of December. He was home for four days from work.

Mr. E. E. Maczkowski resumed his duties as Bible Class leader again at the Baptist Mission at the opening of 1930.

In his annual report to the president of the Synod of the Province of Washington, Rev. H. L. Tracy makes known he held eighty-five services during 1929. These were attended by 2,661 persons. He held Holy Communion services and 309 persons communed. He presented six for confirmation and baptized five and buried one. About 13,368 miles were traveled by him. Mr. Tracy's field covers five dioceses, having an area of 66,668 square miles.

Miss Emma Ward expects to return to New York to live with her mother as she could not find a position in this city. Emma sister's and grandmother, of Patterson, N. J., spent the holidays with her. They returned home Sunday afternoon, January 5th.

Miss Mildred Russell, of Baltimore, Md., has been in this city, visiting her friend, Mrs. Florence Hoopes.

Mrs. Robert Boswell, who has been ill with a severe cold for a some time, is up and around.

The last Sunday in the old year was spent by Rev. Mr. Tracy way down in Lynchburg in the morning, and Roanoke in the evening.

There is much improvement made in the house of Miss Jennie Jones. It is on 109 13th Street, S. E.

Miss Lavinia Grattan, of Detroit, is expected to visit the Capital City. She is now in Florida for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bernsdorf have moved from Tudor Hall on Massachusetts Street to Trinity Towers, Apartment 518.

A box of assorted candy sent by the Detroit Association of the Deaf, was distributed among the friends of the writer. Thank you.

Mrs. James Davidson, who was suddenly taken ill Christmas night, has recovered. Her host of friends were glad to have her among them again.

I wish to correct an item that it was not the Richmond deaf, but the Wheeling deaf who presented the Rev. Mr. Tracy the cash for his Christmas gift.

Mrs. C. C. COLBY.

In Memoriam

FRANCIS P. GIBSON—DECEMBER 4TH, 1929

WHEREAS, It has been the will of the Supreme Being, to remove from our ranks forever, our Grand President Francis P. Gibson, our order loses its chief whose adult years were given to the up-building of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf; and

WHEREAS, Our late esteemed Grand President's passing not only deprives us of the guiding Pilot of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, but also deprives the deaf people of the country of one of its most outstanding men; and,

WHEREAS, Our late Grand President had frequently favored Brooklyn Division, No. 23, with his benign presence at our meetings and social affairs, affording Brooklyn's membership a large and endearing personal intimacy; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That in addition to the formal proceeding usual when we are stricken with such a great loss, we forward a copy of these resolutions to the bereaved family of our late Grand President, and have them published in the "Frat," the "Deaf Mutes' Journal," and also a copy be spread upon the minute book of Brooklyn Division, No. 23.

"Peace be with thee,
O our Brother,
In the Spirit land!
Vainly look we for another
In thy place to stand,
Unto us you have given
All thy life-long years;
Be thy virtues with the living,
And thy Spirit ours."

PHILADELPHIA

Forty years ago on January 6th, (Epiphany 1890) and almost exactly a year and one month after All Souls' Church for the Deaf had been established on Franklin Street, near Green Street, its founder and beloved pastor, the Rev. Henry Winter Syle, M.A., suddenly passed away from this life. His work, however, grew and prospered, until it took the form of a beautiful new house of worship on Sixteenth Street, above Allegheny Avenue, which was until then the only church exclusively for the deaf in America.

In loving remembrance of Mr. Syle, flowers were placed in the chancel of All Souls' Church on Sunday, January 5th, having been donated jointly by Miss Irene M. Syle, his daughter, and the congregation.

Flowers were also placed in the chancel in loving memory of Elma Glenn Stevens, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Stevens, who died on Epiphany 1903.

Mr. George T. Sanders went to Harrisburg on December 28th last, for a short visit to his brother, and returned home the same day.

Mrs. William E. Rothmund was operated on for acute appendicitis at the Germantown hospital recently. She passed the crisis successfully and continues to improve, so that it may only be a question of days before she returns to her home and family.

Mr. Charles Partington has been appointed Superintendent of the Bible Class at All Souls' Church for the Deaf, to relieve Mr. Harry E. Stevens, who is lay-reader and warden and served temporarily as superintendent of the class.

Mrs. Emma J. Dantzer returned to Evansville, Indiana, accompanied by her son, Orvis, on January 5th. The latter will return shortly, but the former may not see the stars in Philadelphia again until June 1st.

All Souls' had a Christmas festival on December 28th last. Its chief features were candy distributed to children of deaf parents, and gifts by friends to friends, followed by movies, which were exceptionally good. The larger gifts were for the pastor, and for Mrs. William L. Salter, who served very acceptably as president and leader of the Pastoral Aid Society for a number of years past.

The Fairy Godmothers were treated to a party by Mrs. Harry E. Stevens, at her home in Merchantville, N. J. recently. We believe some one who was present will send an account of it to the JOURNAL, so we can only add our Amen!

Two deaths occurred among the inmates of the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf at Torresdale recently. The first death was that of Henry R. Smith, of bronchial pneumonia, on December 31st, in his 69th year. His remains were shipped to Reading, Pa., on Saturday, January 4th, for interment beside the grave of his wife, who died about a year or so ago.

The other death was that of Miss Dora Hart, aged eighty-five years, on January 1st, after an illness of about twelve days. General debility was the direct cause of death. She was interred in the burial plot owned by the home at Doylestown the following day. Miss Hart came from Erie, Pa. It is not known if she had any near relatives living.

Both Miss Hart and Mr. Smith were graduates (as the word is commonly used) of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf.

Late in December last (date unknown to the writer), Mr. Eugene McCarty, a well-known deaf-mute of this city, died and was buried in a Catholic cemetery. Mr. McCarty had inherited considerable property from his parents, but he did not live long enough to get much use and benefit from it, his death occurring in middle life. His wife, a son, and sister survive him. We tender the family sincere sympathy in their loss.

The newly elected officers of the Cleric Literary Association are as follows: President, Arthur Fowler; First Vice-President, Mrs. A. Fowler; Second Vice-President, Nathan Schwartz; Secretary, George T. Sanders; Treasurer, Harry E. Stevens; Sergeant-at-Arms, Mrs. A. Fowler.

They were elected on December 19th last, and sworn in the same evening.

The Pastoral Aid Society re-organized on January 2d, with the following officers: President, Mrs. Cora L. Rodgers; Vice-President, Mrs. W. M. Smaltz; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Adolph Yerkes; Secretary, Mrs. David Speece; and Treasurer, Mrs. William L. Salter.

Mrs. Catherine McLoughlin (nee Shoemaker) died suddenly of heart disease on New Year's Day.

Sunday, January 19, 1930, at All Souls' Church 3:00 P. M., Holy Communion and sermon. Bishop Coadjutor, the Rt. Rev. Francis M. Tait will visit in place of Bishop Garland.

5:00 P. M. to 6:30 P. M., Supper. 8:00 P. M., Motion Pictures. Tickets fifty cents each for both; if to movie show only, a charge of twenty-five cents will be made. Benefit of All Souls'.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE

At six-thirty on January 10th, the young men and women of Gallaudet College gathered in Chapel Hall to witness an Educational Picture given by Professor Frederick H. Hughes. As soon as it was over, they all made their way to the Old Jim, where two games were to be played. The first, staged by our second team and the team from the Gonzaga High School, started at seven-thirty. The boys gave us the impression that they were staging a comedy for our benefit. They fell over their own feet, and ran about on all fours seeking the ball. In fact, they behaved so comically that we were kept in gales of laughter. However, the game ended in a score of 13 to 8 in favor of our second team.

No sooner was this amusing game over than our regulars came running on, and with them came the team of Blue Ridge College. The Gallaudet team started off with a bang, and kept in the lead until the final whistle blew. This, our sixth consecutive victory, was won by a score of 40 to 16.

This game was, to tell the truth, a freak game. We never saw one like it before, and never hope to see another one. It was somewhat like the purple cow. To begin with, the Blue Ridgers failed to bring any reserves with them, and for that reason everyone was puzzled when one of the members of the team was ruled out because of personal fouls. The only thing we could think of to do was to remove one of our men also, so as to keep the number even. A few minutes before the end of the game, another of our opponents was ruled out, so we removed another man, leaving three on each side. We feel confident that it will be a long time before we witness another "three-man" game.

The game with the University of Baltimore, which took place on Saturday, January 11th, was scheduled to take place in Baltimore. In fact, so much was announced in this column last week. But for some reason or other, the Baltimore team decided that it needed some fresh air, and came here instead. Before they took the floor, however, the Gonzaga High team took another crack at our scrubs. Once again we were treated to some highly amusing antics, and once more did our scrubs win, this time by the close score of 23 to 22.

When the regular tussle began, however, there was neither laughter nor boredom to be seen on the faces of any of the spectators. When the Baltimore team made a basket in the first few minutes of play, everyone woke up, and remained wide-eyed until the final whistle.

We sat tense on the edges of our seats, dug our fingernails into our palms, held our breath in an agony of suspense; drew sighs of relief and of disappointment; cheered until we were hoarse and gasping; and ended up feeling that we had just gone through the most strenuous night of our lives. How that score did rise and fall! It was a "chills and fever" game; the best we have had this season. And, because it was such a splendid game, so well-fought, and so all-absorbing, we cannot find it in our heart to begrudge the Baltimore team their hard-earned victory, which was made by the score of 34 to 32. It was our first failure, but we failed not without a struggle.

Next week, on January 18th, our regulars will step out in battle on the court of St. John's College at Annapolis. We are looking forward enthusiastically to the result of this next game.

Gallaudet's co-eds are also plunging into a season of basketball. The schedule they have arranged is as follows:—

January 17.....Als Athletic Club, at home
January 25.....National Park Seminary, at home
February 1.....Eastman School, at home
February 8.....Western Maryland College, at home
February 12.....Fairmont School, away
February 15.....Strayer Business College, at home
March 1.....National Park Seminary, away.

The team is composed of Captain Martino, '32, and Coretti, '32, forwards; Koehn, '33, and Dubose, '30, guards; Bronson, '32, center, and Jones, P. C., sidcenter.

The reserves are Bridger, '32, Bridges, P. C., Fehrman, P. C., Ross, '32, Marino, P. C., and George, P. C.

Mrs. Percival Hall, Jr., former Ohio State University player, is the new coach.

The opening game will be played Friday night, January 17th, with the opening whistle sounding at 8 o'clock. This will be the first game the girls have played at night in several years.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Harry Liebsohn, of Bath Beach, was born on January 1st. We don't know what year and that does not matter. He has seen quite a few birthdays and also "Watch Nights." We do not believe he has ever had a Watch Night like the one his friends handed him for the beginning of 1930. Watch Night it was. A testimonial in the form of a Waltham, jeweled, gold watch was the form in which his friends expressed their esteem.

The party began December 31st, and ended at 4 A. M., January 1st, 1930. Cards, games, jollity. A wonderful spread by Mrs. Liebsohn rounded out Harry's birthday.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wolgamot, Daniels, Barnes, McLaren, Donovan and Fetscher. Misses E. Anderson, G. Williams and R. Hirschkind. Mrs. Gass and Mrs. Schnackenberg. Messrs. R. Anderson, E. Mayer, J. Maier, Abrams, Stoll, Poorman and Schnackenberg. All wish Harry plenty more birthdays and Happy New Years.

LEXINGTON AVE. NEXT SATURDAY

On Saturday evening, January 18th, the Lexington Alumni Association holds its basketball and dance at the Seventh Regiment Armory Park Avenue, between 66th and 67th Streets, New York City.

The first game will be between the Fanwood and Hartford School boys, and the other will be between the Deaf-Mutes' Union League Five and the Xavier Silents. Silver loving cups will be awarded the winning teams. There will be dancing before, between and after the games, music to be furnished by the Seventh Regiment Band.

Tickets, at one dollar each, can be had from members of the Alumni or at the door on the opening night. Games start at 8:30 o'clock sharp, so come all of you who do not wish to miss the largest affair of the season.

N. F. S. D.

The Winter Carnival of the Greater New York Divisions of the N.F.S.D. came off at the Park & Tilford Building last Saturday evening, the 11th. The attendance was not exactly up to expectations, about 150 being present, but all seemed to partake of the spirit of the occasion and the affair did not conclude until well into midnight.

The proceeds of this and future affairs will be devoted towards the entertainment of delegates and visitors to the Boston Convention in 1931.

H. A. D.

The Annual Meeting and Installation of Officers of the Hebrew Association of the Deaf will take place at the Community Center of Temple Israel, this Sunday afternoon, January 19th, at 2:30 P. M. Quite a record attendance is expected.

On the evening of the same date and at the same place, a basketball game between the H. A. D. and D. M. U. L. fives will be staged, to be followed by dancing to the merry tunes of a band. Admission at door, only fifty cents.

Mrs. George M. Donovan entertained at bridge and luncheon at her home in Richmond Hill, L. I., Wednesday, January 8th. Those present were: Mrs. James B. Gass, Mrs. Lowenherz, Mrs. I. Goldberg, Mrs. Harry P. Kane, Mrs. E. Wolgamot, Mrs. Harry Daniels, Mrs. C. W. Fetscher, Mrs. E. Rapport.

Adolph J. Buhl was tendered a surprise party on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday, Sunday, January 12th, to which a number of both deaf and hearing friends had been invited. It was announced that Mrs. Rose Scheifer is engaged to wed Mr. Buhl.

Mr. James J. Parker, Sr., of

CHICAGO

THE "SAC" IS SOLD!

Sale of the "world's finest clubhouse for the deaf" was voted at a special meeting of the Silent Athletic Club members, January 4th. The purchasers are a negro organization. Sale price $35,000, of which $5,000 is a down payment, and the balance in monthly installments.

So ends the "when dreams come true" idyl of Johnnie Sullivan and Francis P. Gibson; ends successfully despite the influx of negroes, which jumped fifteen blocks South since purchase of the property for $25,000 in 1919. Ends just a month to the day after Gibson's death.

Purchase of the property in May, 1919, was due to successful flotation of a $25,000 bond issue by the lads of the Silent Athletic Club, led by President Johnnie Sullivan, Treasurer Harry Leiter, and Secretary Arthur Hinch. Hinch is now the "cinch-king of frat recruiters," leading the progressive D. A. D. in Detroit; Leiter is Chairman of Trustees of the million-dollar-frat.

Well, "dreams came true." Thirty-five thousand dollars velvet. Chicago's motto of "I Will" did it. And chiefly Johnnie Sullivan, that smiling Irish dynamo.

Chicago Division, No. 1, National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, held its annual public installation of officers January 4th—just a month to the day after Gibson's death.

Following the public installation of officers in the afternoon, and the Sac business meeting in the early evening, where sale was authorized, No. 1 put on an entertainment. Grand Secretary—Roberts was the principal speaker. Mrs. Meagher brought down the house with her new song: "Carry On"—which promises to be in big demand hereafter. There were several dramatic acts, mainly on frat motifs.

E. W. Potter and wife, of Galesburg, are temporarily domiciled at the Illinois Home for Aged Deaf, while he is under observation.

At the December meeting of the Board of Managers of the Home, Treasurer Ben Frank announced receipt of $22 from Mrs. J. Harmon—proceeds from a couple of entertainments she held; $12.50 Thanksgiving Day collection by Mrs. E. P. Cleary at the Jax school; $20 from Mrs. W. Olson, of Jax, to be used on the Thanksgiving dinner; $79 from Ed Heber, of Springfield—final settlement for the convention seven years ago and a lot of smaller donations.

The day after Gibson's funeral John T. Shilton, the frat vice-president from Canada, dropped in to take dinner at the Home, and insisted on paying for it with the whole of a brand new five-buck bill.

Christmas was a merry time for the residents of the Home. The W. Spragues furnished the tree and Chairman Milton Hart provided the dinner, also providing each man with a shirt and each woman with dress-goods. The M. E. flock gave each man a knife, and each woman a manicure set. Miss Edith Fitzgerald of West Virginia, the Hasenstabs, Mrs. Patton, Robey Burns and a "friend" sent cash donations totalling $22.50. The R. Thomases (now in Alabama) sent a box of tangerines and a wreath; Mrs. Brimble a basket of fruit; All Angels' sent candy; and Mesdames Jefferies and Meagher each gave a year's subscription to the Woman's Home Companion.

The Board of Managers sent Chairman Milton Hart a Chairman telegram reading: "With appreciation of your many years of loyal service we wish you Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

A young Baptist minister of Arkansas, a Rev. Bardner, finding he is gradually becoming deaf, brought his ear-trumpet and his pretty wife to Chicago, where he is learning the sign-language under the Rev. P. J. Hasenstab, and will go back home to work under the Home Mission Board of the Baptist Church in the South. His wife is studying at University of Chicago for Ph.D. degree. Their daughter Ruth, fourteen years old, is in Hyde Park High school here.

Remember the unbeaten amateur champions of Ohio, 1918, the Good-year Silents football team? Remember its post-season game with the powerful Akron professionals, then one of the best eleven in the country? Remember with the score 0-0, we had to punt; and found our only punter suddenly afflicted with a streak of "yellow," and refusing to stand up and take the cruel charge of those dirty "pros"? Thereon a brave young linesman volunteered to punt—though he had never done so before? And how his punt was partly blocked, resulting in the score which beat us? That brave player was young Stanley. Well, he has lain for over two weeks on a local undertakers' slab, awaiting burial in Potter's Field if the body is unclaimed.

Mrs. Lacie Shelton is back from a two-week's vacation spent with relatives in Detroit. She is loud in her praise of the Detroit Association of the Deaf clubhouse, managed by our own Art Hinch—who was secretary of the original bunch buying the old Sac here.

Frederick Fancher, bandmaster extraordinary, brought up the big band-bus of the school January 4th, to lug a load of kiddies back on the 6th.

SEATTLE

John DeLance, Duluth's poetaster, found industrial conditions so excellent here that he has brought his hearing wife and child to join him as permanent residents of the Windy City. They are now living with the Gustav Dore. John finds the wholesale manufacture of poetry—either sold by the pound or the yard—insufficient to sustain life (same as Terry, Bowen, Hetzler, Meagher, et al.) and has to turn to the prosaic task of painting contractor for a living.

Miss Cora Jacoba gave a "birthday party" at the M. E., New Year's Eve—a birthday for the church. Everybody had to shell-out a penny a year of his or her life—netting over eight dollars. Refreshments brought the total to over seventeen dollars, which was applied on the rent. Charlie Sharpnack and helpers have been making a new platform, painting, etc., in their spare time—thus adding materially to the comfort and attractiveness of the M. E.

William, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gunner, spent his holiday vacation with Mr. Gunner's sister in Los Angeles, Cal.

Coach Robey Burns, of the Illinois School for the Deaf football team, was seen briefly in town during the Christmas vacation, en route to Washington—where he spent the first Christmas with his mother in ten years. The I. S. D. had a successful season, winning six, losing one, and having two tie games. The assistant coach is Charlie Marshall, all-time Gallaudet end, and former star of the Good-year Silents. Next season's captain is a kid named Volta.

On the 28th, the Washington Barrows entertained twelve friends at a private function. The same night an alleged "ball" was given in the Silent A. C., for the purpose of raising funds for educating a deaf-blind kid of eight years, who had been rejected by the deaf school because he was blind, and rejected by the blind school because he was deaf. Only thirty folks crowded the dance floor. Only thirty out of an estimated 3000 deaf population in Chicago! John Geary, now almost stone blind, aspires to the superintendency of the proposed school for deaf-blind. Geary will be remembered as the Grand Supreme Frat Organizer, way back around 1906, when only bold, brave men wore the button.

Among visitors at various functions were: Edmund Berney and Victor Beran, of Omaha; Octave Sciotte, of Flint; Misses Irene Crafton and Virginia Dries, of Peoria; Miss Anna Claus, of Ottawa (no relation to Santa).

Benny Zeb Miller was born, December 22d, to our popular young artist, Ralph Miller, and wife, Gladys. Jack Seipp's most appreciated Christmas present was a regular "sit"—printers' term for steady job—on the Chicago Journal of Commerce, a stock-exchange daily newspaper, where he had been subbing for two years.

When a postman dropped mail at the door of Mr. Hagemeyer's house last week, a dog inside, hearing a noise, barked and jumped against a window, breaking it. The postman left a written note pinned to the door to notify Mr. Hagemeyer that the dog was to blame for the breakage. Some time later Elmer Disz called to visit Mr. Hagemeyer, and noticed the note. He looked into the broken window and saw the dog looking quietly at him without barking—supposedly from learning by the injury to his head.

The Catholic deaf club was saddened by the drowning of its member, Henry Prusa, thirty-three years old, a tailor, Friday, January 3d. He had been strolling with his deaf friend, Frank Jans, along the shore of Michigan Lake. The two were climbing over to a perilous position on the ice-block or floe near Division Street beach, standing on the top to pose for a picture taken by another friend, when Mr. Prusa slipped into a big crevice in the ice and vanished. Coast guardsmen were called to make efforts to locate the body, but couldn't find it. His body is still under the ice, so the hunt has been postponed till warm weather. The club lost James Gerry, twenty-one years old, who was drowned near Waukegan, Ill., August 5, 1928.

Mrs. Hans Stahr came here from St. Louis to visit her husband for two weeks. He obtained a position in a truck factory here last month. She will return and sell her belongings and furniture, in order to move her family back to Chicago next Spring, if his position is steady.

M. Heinz's sister, Mrs. Lottie Gustafson, a prominent woman political leader, was run down and killed by an automobile Friday evening, January 3d.

The business meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was postponed to another time, on account of the New Year's Day falling on the same date, as they meet every Wednesday.

A big sign on the side of the door of the Ephpheta Club house reads: "Catholic Deaf Club."

NEWARK DINNER DANCE

The Anniversary Dinner and Dance at the Y. M. H. A., Newark, on February 1st, will cost $1.25. Reserve a place by sending that amount to Miss Sarah Zanger, 1 South Orange Avenue, Newark, N. J., or telephone Market 4372.

There have been many expressions of satisfaction and pleasure over the recent P. S. A. D.—Gallaudet Day banquet, and the committee feels repaid for the work of preparation.

The display of decorated trees out of doors during the Christmas season was very beautiful this year, though the trees were so widely separated that it took time to see them all, and we did not attempt to do so. The Neitro Sanitarium at 85th Street, had two large trees lighted near the entrance, and in addition the whole front of the building was decorated with colored lights, with a large and brilliant white star in the center. At one of the gas stations on Green Lake, there was seated a gigantic Santa Claus. He must have been twenty-five feet in height, and he was surrounded by colored illustrations from Children's Classics. The cow jumped merrily over the moon, a couple of Jack's popped in and out of their huge boxes, and the whole had so festive an effect that the gas station was made the Mecca of numberless car rides.

The annual Frat party at the American Legion Hall on New Year's Eve was a great success. Many out-of-town guests were present, and there were a hundred and fifty or so in the crowd. There was a program, some dancing, and refreshments were sold. A number of prizes were given. The party netted about sixty dollars for the Frat treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wetherly, of Aberdeen, Wash., the former a nephew of Mrs. Emily Eaton, became the happy parents of a daughter, born on December 6th.

The mother of Sam Schneider is now in Providence Hospital, recovering from an operation.

"We were happy to hear from so many of our good friends at Christmas time, by receiving from them greeting cards. We kept all our cards unopened till Christmas eve, when we sat for two hours opening and reading cards. Memory called up each face in turn, and the room seemed filled with a silent company of friends, whose cards spoke for them. Mr. and Mrs. Tilley sent this year a lovely little panorama view of their estate at Tiburon, which we visited when in California. Mr. Mahlstrom had an exceedingly good likeness of himself on his card, and we noted one from Mr. and Mrs. Nolen, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Nolen was formerly Miss Jessie Woodlawn, of the Minnesota school.

Mr. Enoch Schetan sent us a copy of his paper, The West River Progress, published at Redem, S. Dak. It is the Christmas number, and is adorned with a brightly colored front page, and we think it quite an enterprise to publish so large a paper in a town of less than a hundred inhabitants.

Mr. Fred Wise accompanied his parents from Colorado, and they came to our burg about a month ago. If Fred's parents can locate a suitable ranch, they will remain in the State. They lived in this region many years ago, and are amazed at the strides forward it has made since they were last here. Fred attended both the P. S. A. D. banquet and the Frat New Year's party.

Miss Julia Cantey and Miss Verde Lott, teachers at the State school, were in Seattle days of their holidays vacation. Miss Lott made a side-trip to Canada, but Miss Cantey was at the Frat party. On New Year's Day, she was a guest at dinner with the Hansons, as were also Miss Genevieve Sink, Mrs. Jack Bertram, J. C. Howard and Oscar Sanders. Before dinner Dr. Hanson drove Misses Cantey and Sink and Mr. Sanders through the boulevards and along the waterfront. After dinner the party played bridge till a late hour. On Thursday and Friday, Miss Sink took the two young teachers for a lot of sight-seeing in her Chevrolet. They returned to Vancouver today, and were sorry that they could not stay longer.

On Sunday, the 22d of December, it rained, but nevertheless the Hansons decided they would have a trip out of doors. So they took Alice Wilberg and J. Cooke Howard and drove out to Des Moines, where they stopped in front of the splendid new Masonic home to enjoy the view of Puget Sound and Vashon Island. They then went on to Kent, where they lunched, and finished the jaunt by driving around Lake Washington, arriving home about dark. We recommend driving around in a comfortable closed car as a splendid way to spend a rainy day.

Frank Kelly is one of several of our younger people, who are greatly interested in ice hockey. At the banquet he sat and went into detail about the game he had seen the evening before, allowing his turkey to grow cold. His neighbors on either side of him, however, soon convinced them that hockey was not their chief concern just then. Robert Bronson and Frank Kelly went home for Christmas to spend the day with their mothers, the former going to Yakima, and the latter to Port Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolph are now with the Ed Martins, till they leave in the early spring for Alaska for the salmon season.

Miss Doris Nation was one of a family party, who took dinner at Blane's the evening of December 13th, and later took in "A Mid-summer Night's Dream" at the Metropolitan.

On October 15th, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin, Alice Wilberg and John Hood took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Oliver. The latter live in Beverly Park, a few miles out of Everett.

On October 21st, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Fowler gave a nice little party at their home, in honor of Milton Eslinger of the U. S. S. "Maryland." Mr. Eslinger, who had thirty days' leave, is a son of deaf parents who live in Iowa.

Mr. Harold Wilson, also of the U. S. S. "Maryland," was a guest at the Pickett home during his week's leave.

August Koberstein proudly introduced his son, Daniel, to his friends at the banquet. Daniel is now in the Navy, and has grown and changed so that in his sailor's uniform many did not know him.

The little nine-year-old son of Melba Burke came alone from Spokane to spend two weeks here with his mother. It was his first trip alone on a train.

On December 24th, there was a delightful Christmas tree party enjoyed by the younger crowd at the Ed Martin home. The refreshments were made by Frank Rolph.

Maria Coic, of Aberdeen, is now in Los Angeles, where she has obtained employment. She is boarding with the Oscar Andersons.

Mrs. John Conley was hostess to Misses Mullin and Nation and Mrs. Hanson yesterday evening. Mrs. Conley, who returns to Lewiston next Friday, has been forced to stay longer in Seattle than she planned because of some necessary dental work.

Mr. Clarence R. Olson, of Tacoma, a student at Gallaudet College, is staying out of school for a year or so, in order to help his father. He has secured an office position with the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Co. of Tacoma.

THE HANSONS.

ANNUAL DINNER

The Lexington Avenue School Alumni Association, to the number of thirty-three, held its annual dinner on Thursday, January 9th, at "Ye Olde Palette." Following was the menu:

Celery	Olives	Cocktail	Radishes
Fresh Fruit	Soup
Boiled Kennebec Salmon	Sauce Hollandaise
Parsley Potatoes
Roast Turkey	Chestnut Stuffing	Giblet
Gravy	Cauliflower	Cranberry Sauce
Brussels Sprouts
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Russian Dressing
Fruit Pudding	Tea	Wine	Sauce
Coffee

Speeches ever made by President Nuboer, Mr. Lukemann, formerly a teacher of modeling in clay at the Institution, Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson, and Mr. Samuel Frankenheim. The Association is officered by F. W. Nuboer, president; M. W. Loew, secretary; and James B. Gass, Treasurer.

A fine dinner was served by "Ye Olde Palette," 41 East 42d Street, near Fourth Avenue, which is a large and airy restaurant. The walls are hung with rare oil paintings and valuable etchings. One of the latter was an immense photograph of the famous Old Guard. This picture shows about one hundred members in military uniform, only one of whom is alive today. It was grouped and photographed, showing each individual of the organization, by Samuel Frankenheim, thirty-two years ago, previous to engraving, and attests Mr. Frankenheim's skill as an artist.

OREGON COUPLE HONORED

Relatives and friends from Butterville grange, near Champoe, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred I. Fountaine December 20th to felicitate them on their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. Fountaine was born August 11th, 1862, near Butterville, Ill. Mrs. Fountaine was born near Kanakee, Ill., June 10th, 1864. The young couple went to housekeeping in Illinois, later they moved to Nebraska, where they lived at Red Cloud for 22 years. They came to Oregon six years ago.

To them were born ten children, six girls and four boys. One girl has died.

Mrs. Emile Racette, a daughter, lives on a farm near Butterville, Ore. Earl H. Fountaine, the only single child, runs the farm on which they reside. Mr. and Mrs. Fountaine are both deaf and dumb.

Resolutions

At the regular business meeting of the Cleric Literary Association, held on Thursday evening, December 19th, 1929, a motion was passed for a resolution for Mrs. Helen R. Wilson, one of its members.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our long and faithful associate, Mrs. Helen R. Wilson; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in her death, the Association has lost not only a good but also one of its oldest members, whose pleasure was to serve the Association, in various ways, and extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved members of her family; and be it further

Resolved, That these expressions of our regret be spread on the minutes of the Association, and published in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL and the Mt. Airy World, and a copy thereof be sent to the members of her family.

DETROIT

The Catholic Association of the Deaf held a meeting at St. Mary's Hospital on December 15th. Officers were elected as follows:—

Al Japes, president; Mr. I. Laporte, vice-president; Mrs. John Hellers, secretary; Mrs. Robert Rollins, treasurer. Good old Santa Claus brought a bountiful candies. A bag of mixed nuts and oranges and apples to every one.

On January 1st, a magician gave a laughable play at St. Mary's Hospital.

The Cadillac Association of the Deaf held a Christmas festival at its club hall on Sunday evening, December 22d. On the platform a large tree was beautifully decorated, fireplace and a ton of candies, bags of nuts and fruit.

Mrs. Victoria Jones played as an old grandmother and Miss Affeldt, as a young child, fell asleep while she waited for Santa Claus. Mrs. Anna Mahl, arrayed like a hippopotamus Santa Claus, put goodies in the stockings. Mrs. Affeldt, Mrs. Hannan and Mrs. Waters rendered a hymn very gracefully. Mrs. Lucy May gave a poem about Santa Claus. Master Robert Davies, a pupil at school for the deaf, wished everybody a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus distributed candy, a bag of nuts and fruit. Mrs. Ivan Heymansson remembered some children with a nice present.

On December 31st, there was a watch out night party at the Cadillac Association of the Deaf. A very good crowd was there. Many from out-of-town enjoyed the party. Miss Ida Almeish, of Toledo, came from South Dakota, where she attended the school with her friend, Mrs. Pilliod, of Toledo.

The Detroit Association of the Deaf had the biggest and best New Year's Eve party. About 350 who attended. Plantation minstrels, high class vaudeville, were played by some members of Good Will Club. All night cafeteria was in splendid service, Mr. Dickey, formerly of Columbus, O., was the chef. Mr. Dominic DiFazio was the chairman.

On December 24th, there was a Christmas festival at the Detroit Association of the Deaf at its club rooms. The club room was prettily decorated. Miss Soukin, Miss Parl and Mrs. McSparrin gave a brief talk, while Miss Soukin held a string to a Christmas bell hung in the center of the platform.

Miss Beaver and Miss Behrendt danced very gracefully. The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beaver talked about what he wanted Santa to give him.

Mr. McCarthy was dressed in Dutch costume and two girls danced Dutch fashion.

Mr. DiFazio, the father, gave a good joke on his children about presents.

Santa Claus was played by Mrs. Ben Beaver, three girls helped Santa Claus—Jeanette May, Miss Beaver and Miss Latondress—to distribute boxes of delicious candies.

The D. A. D. presented Mrs. Etta Beaver a very handsome Underwood typewriter. Surely she was overjoyed. The D. A. D. presented a handsome mirror and stool to the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mrs. Etta Reed spent a few days at Akron, O., to attending her parents' golden wedding, on December 18th.

Master Bourcier and Margaret Bourcier spent the holiday season with Mrs. Bourcier's parents, in Washington, Mich.

Walter Bednack, of Bay City, Mich., was in Detroit for holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Liddy, our Canadian friends from Windsor, Ont., spent Christmas and New Year's at Mrs. Liddy's home in Kitchener, Ont., Can.

The Detroit Chapter, M. A. D. held a meeting at G. A. R. building on December 29th, Sunday afternoon. These officers were elected: Mr. Thos. Kenney, president; Mr. Frank Allera, vice-president; Mr. Otto Buby, recording secretary; Robert Jones, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Behrendt, treasurer; Japes, Sparrow and Baird, trustees.

Mrs. A. Schneider got a telegram from Angola, N. Y., that her good friend, Mrs. James Daley (nee Amelia Gesiel) died on January 1st, of a stroke of apoplexy. She was taken sick only one hour, during the night before New Year came in. Her body was shipped to Detroit and the funeral service was held on Saturday, January 4th. Burial was in German Lutheran Cemetery.

Mrs. Horace Waters is confined very sick in bed at home with tonsillitis. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bankston, on December 31st.

A baby girl was born on November 26th to Mrs. Koehler's married daughter.

MRS. LUCY MAY.

The first aim of education should be to fit one to live usefully. But it will have failed of its task unless it fits the individual to live such a life in the environment in which he finds himself, wherever, whatever that may be. Education's problem is to fit us to live that kind of life where we are, wherever our lot is cast.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

NEWS AND COMMENTS

Lest ye forget! D. A. D. convention, Knoxville, Tenn., 1930.

To the many friends who sent us cards during Christmas, we return our thanks and assurance that each and every one was deeply appreciated. Our wishes for our friends—known and unknown—are that each one will have a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year, filled with all the good things that 1929 forgot to leave on their doorstep.

Miss Blanche Brown, of Union City, and Mr. Edward J. Malone, of Atlanta, were united in marriage on December 31, 1929. Congratulations.

Mrs. Sidney Weaver, of Akron, Ohio, stopped over in Atlanta just prior to Christmas for a couple of days, visit with her friend, Gwen Robinson. She was on her way to spend Christmas with her parents at her old home in Dillard, Ga. Mrs. Weaver informed this scribe that, while she liked Akron very much, there was no other place on earth "just like Georgia."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Drake, of Michigan, who have been spending their honeymoon in Florida and other places in the South, stopped over in Atlanta for a couple of days on their way back north to get acquainted with some of the Atlanta deaf. They attended services at the B. Y. P. U. on December 29th, and Mr. Drake gave us a short but interesting talk on the subject of "Making New Year Resolutions." Mr. Drake is a former president of Detroit Division, No. 2, N. F. S. D. While in this city Mr. and Mrs. Drake were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Johnson. They left Atlanta on December 31st, on their way back home via Knoxville, Tenn., where they will stop over to meet some of the Knoxville deaf.

Mrs. J. H. McFarlane, of Talladega, Ala., has been confined to her bed more or less ever since the Alabama-Tennessee football game on November 16th last, with a severe attack of rheumatism. Being out in that bad weather and overtaxing herself in assisting with the entertainment of the visitors, put her in bed. Mr. McFarlane, who has had to do his own cooking and housework during Mrs. McFarlane's illness, informs us that she is now improving and on the road to recovery, providing no unforeseen complications occur.

Bro. McFarlane is certainly to be commended for his most unselfish spirit of helpful co-operation in the work for the deaf of the South. Aside from having to prepare copy for the next issue of the Messenger, look after a sick wife, and attend all his other regular school duties, he has found time to put aside some of his work and prepare the Booster Briefs for the D. A. D. Booster, which will be off the press within the next few days. The deaf of the South owe a deeper debt of gratitude to Mr. McFarlane than they will ever realize. Mrs. McFarlane's many friends in Atlanta are wishing for her a most speedy recovery, and for both this dear couple a most happy and gladsome New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kessler, Prof. L. A. Palmer, Mr. Gordon Midget and another party from Knoxville, Tenn., spent their Christmas holiday in Miami and other points in Florida. And by the way, Prof. Palmer has been named the local chairman for the Knoxville D. A. D. convention next summer. Good! With the sprightly professor in charge, we know everything will be "tip-top."

Mrs. Flora Wilson McLean, age 42, wife of William W. McLean, died on December 30, and was buried at Hollywood Cemetery on January 1, 1930. While she had been in declining health for the past two or more years, her sudden passing was a shock to the deaf of this city. Funeral service was held at Spring Hill Undertaking Parlors, Rev. Irby Henderson and Rev. S. M. Freeman officiating. The funeral was attended by the large part of the deaf colony here and a large number of hearing friends of the family.

Mrs. McLean was a prominent leader among the deaf of Atlanta, having served for three terms as president of the Nadfrat Woman's Club, and held offices in other organizations, until declining health forced her to resign from all active work. She spent various periods in a vain effort to regain her lost health. She is survived by a husband, mother, father, one sister and one brother. The sympathy of everyone goes out to the bereaved family in their loss.

This office recently received a visit from Roger O'Kelly, the deaf colored lawyer and bank counselor, of Raleigh, N. C., who was in Atlanta on January 2, 1930, attending the convention of the Phi Alpha Fraternity as a delegate from the Lambda Chapter of his city. He took time off to call at this office, bearing a letter of introduction from our very good friend, Mr. Hugh G. Miller, of Raleigh, who asked us to do what we could for him. We had quite a talk with Roger and found him to be a highly intelligent colored man, well versed on all topics that mostly interest this scribe. He is fully aware of his color and does not try to overstep the bounds.

We enjoyed quite an interesting interview with him on the subject of "social equality" among the whites and blacks, and we are quite agreed that the Southern people are the colored man's best friends and that the South is the best place on earth for them. Roger has promised to write his view of the comparison of the North and South in their ideas and treatment of the colored man, and this writer is waiting with much interest see the article. As Mr. Miller requested us to do what we could for him, we took him over to the home of one of the leading colored deaf of this city and instructed them to show him every courtesy while he was in the city, and to make him acquainted with other leaders of his race here. We presume this was done.

Mrs. Bessie Winchester, who went to the Mississippi School for the Deaf last fall, as a teacher in the Literary Department, was at home during the Christmas holidays, greeting her many Atlanta friends, and spending Christmas with her husband, who is still located in this city. While here, she was pressed into service to act as Santa Claus at the big Christmas tree given under auspices of the deaf B. Y. P. U.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

Early in December, Miss Orville Van Sylkes of St. Johnsville, N. Y., brought her invalid father to Syracuse, where he could have better medical care. Last week he passed away, and the remains were taken to St. Johnsville for burial beside the wife who had preceded him some years ago. Miss Orville is undecided about her future plans.

A very interesting Christmas entertainment was given at Trinity Episcopal Parish House in this city, on December 27th, Mrs. H. C. Merrill being in charge. A playette, depicting the birth of Christ, was given by children of deaf parents, Master John Conley and little Miss Jean Hoffman taking the leading roles. Mrs. Robert Conley took the part of an angel. The hymn: "Silent night, holy night," was given in signs by Mesdames Houze, Conley and Root. The kiddies were delighted at being so generously remembered by dear old Santa, impersonated by Mr. Robert Conley.

Delicious refreshments were later served by the ladies to about one hundred people.

While on a trip to New York City recently, Rev. Herbert C. Merrill had the misfortune to lose about $100, part of which had been given to him for his church work among the deaf. Some slick pick-pocket is that much the richer.

Business in Syracuse is about as bad as it could possibly be at present, and many of the deaf are either minus their jobs or working only part time. One man has been out of work since last October. Any deaf person wanting a job should steer clear of Syracuse.

Mrs. Thelma Merrill Stewart and two small daughters, Phyllis and Jeanette, left on January 1st, for Rahway, N. J., for a short visit with friends, after which they will go to Washington, D. C., where Mrs. Stewart plans to enter the government service, where she was formerly employed in stenographic work. The good wishes of her many friends go with her to her new home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Root had all their children and grandchildren with them to celebrate Christmas. The Merrill family also had a Christmas reunion.

A large crowd of deaf assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Hoffman on New Year's Eve, to watch the old year depart and the new year arrive, to "welcome the coming, speed the parting guest." Cards were played until midnight, then a happy social time was had until a late hour. Mr. Costello, chef at the Rome, N. Y., school, was among those present.

On New Year's Eve Mr. and Mrs. George Schubert, of Oneida, were hosts to a large number of deaf. Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Keller and Mrs. Grace Wassor, of Syracuse, attended.

Mr. and Mrs. George Root entertained at a fine spread on New Year's Day. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conley and son, John, of Collamer, and Mr. John Sears, of Syracuse, being the guests.

Mrs. John Sears and daughter, Marjory, of this city, have returned home from a two-week visit at Binghamton with the parents of Mrs. Sears.

R.

The church committee favored the purchase of a chandelier. The new member opposed it. He said: "Well, I don't want to be stubborn, but who can play it after we get it?"

What is probably the oldest clock in the world is one made in 1439, for Philip the Good, of Burgundy.

BALTIMORE, MD.

As an annual custom since its inception, Baltimore Division No. 47, N. F. S. D., presented a most pleasant Watch-Night entertainment and jollification at Schanze's Dancing Hall, Tuesday night, December 31st, when a metaphorical Old Man, who ruled the world for the past 365 days, vacated his throne on the stroke of twelve midnight and sank into oblivion and was succeeded by an infant ruler to be known as 1930. Over 200 persons, including an aggregation of about twenty-five from Washington, D. C., and a goodly number from Frederick, Md., were present and indulged in the festivities.

An enjoyable and interesting program, though not as elaborate and impressive as last year, was provided, which was as follows:

A Song—"The Old Year and the New One".....Miss Virginia Brushwood
Reading: "The Shipwreck".....Mr. J. R. Wallace
Poem—"Carry On".....Mr. E. E. Bernsdorff
